Missouri Weekly Cattle Auction Summary 06/13/22

Receipts: 37,995 Week ago: 14,285 Year ago: 34,681

Compared to last week, feeder steers and heifers sold steady to 5.00 higher with some instances of up to 10.00 higher. The supply of feeders was moderate to heavy following a light holiday week last week. Several loads and multi load strings of yearlings showed up this week with many bringing very impressive prices. Multiple loads of 8 weight steers sold, which have climbed into the low to mid 160's the last couple of weeks, are now seeing tops in the high 160's very close to the 170 mark. Tina Livestock Market sold the highest load this week with a load of 850 lb. steers hitting 168.75. Callaway Livestock Center sold 120 head of 852 lbs. steers at 167.50 and Kingsville Livestock Market sold 173 head of 846 lb. steers at 166.60. Tina Livestock Market also had multi load string of 179 head of 805 lb. steers of mixed color which were put together, a little plainer and thin on flesh which sold at 163.75. Buyers have been very aggressive for these heavy weights as they are pretty hard to find this time of year and most, especially the ones bringing these top prices will perform well and take much fewer days on feed to reach slaughter than the lighter weight calves that are more common. That isn't to say however that lighter weights won't bring good money however, 57 head of 591 lb. steers at Callaway sold on Monday at 202.50, everything but 1200.00 per head. For the entire state, near 1400 head of steers with a weight average weight of 574 lbs. had a weight average price of 194.79. Cash corn prices around the state climbed just over 50 cents this week with many areas now right at or exceeding 8.00 a bushel. Although many areas around the state have had a wet cool spring, this actually slowed grass growth and now heat is coming. There are actually some growing concerns that pastures are going to dry out fast. Currently none of the state is officially registering on the drought monitor. Temperatures are expected to reach triple digits in areas next week and that is bad news in June. Boxed beef cutouts were mixed this week. Choice closed on Friday at 271.32 up 4.06 while select closed at 248.89, down 1.13. Negotiated feedlot sales were higher this week as of Friday afternoon a bit over 85k head were reported with live sales ranging from 136.00-143.00 and dressed sales mostly 225.00-226.00.

WORLD AGRICULTURAL SUPPLY AND DEMAND ESTIMATES 06/10/22

WHEAT: The outlook for 2022/23 U.S. wheat this month is for increased supplies, unchanged domestic use and exports, and higher stocks. Supplies are raised on higher production with all wheat production projected at 1,737 million bushels, up 8 million from last month. NASS raised winter wheat production to 1,182 million bushels as increases for Soft Red Winter and White Winter more than offset a reduction for Hard Red Winter. The all wheat yield is 46.9 bushels per acre, up 0.3 bushels from last month. Projected 2022/23 ending stocks are raised 8 million bushels to 627 million, still down 4 percent from 2021/22. The projected 2022/23 season-average farm price is unchanged at $10.75 per bushel, compared to $7.70 for 2021/22.

COARSE GRAINS: This month's 2022/23 U.S. corn outlook is for larger beginning stocks, slightly higher use, and increased ending stocks. Corn area and yield forecasts are unchanged. USDA will release its Acreage report on June 30, which will provide survey based indications of planted and harvested area. Beginning stocks are up 45 million bushels mostly reflecting a forecast decline in exports for 2021/22. Exports are lowered 50 million bushels, based on reported U.S. Census Bureau shipments through the month of April and export inspection data for the month of May. Food, seed, and industrial use (FSI) is raised 5 million bushels as projected increases in the amount of corn used for glucose and dextrose and starch is partially offset by a decline in high fructose corn syrup. These FSI use changes are carried through for 2022/23. With no other 2022/23 use changes, ending stocks are raised 40 million bushels. The season-average farm price received by producers is unchanged at $6.75 per bushel.

OILSEEDS: This month's U.S. soybean supply and use projections for 2022/23 include lower beginning and ending stocks and higher prices. Lower beginning stocks reflects increased exports for 2021/22. Soybean exports for 2021/22 are raised 30 million bushels to 2.17 billion reflecting strong export sales and a reduced export forecast for Brazil. With reduced supplies for 2022/23 and no use changes, soybean ending stocks are projected at 280 million bushels, down 30 million. The soybean price is forecast at $14.70 per bushel, up 30 cents from last month.
